Questions that have come in:

I'm excited about the formation of the Suzuki Training Committee. I understand that it's just getting underway and that it will serve in an advisory capacity to our ED. What kind of timeline are we potentially looking at for the committee to evaluate our current training program and make recommendations?

Is there anything happening to reconstruct the books so that there is a greater representation of diversity in the pieces of music?

These Community meetings are always scheduled when I am teaching classes or lessons. Are these meetings ever recorded? If so, where can I find a transcript or recording of these meetings? Thank you for your time and answer.
